Prayer Points for Anglican Justice Sunday

Anglican Criminal Justice Ministry is a chaplaincy program that ministers to people who are incarcerated in prisons and juvenile detention centres, or have been released from prison.

Please pray for God to bless the work of ACJM.

WEEK 1:

Anglican Criminal Justice Ministry is a chaplaincy program that ministers to people who are incarcerated in prisons and juvenile detention centres, or have been released from prison.

Please pray for:

- Anglican chaplains, as they seek to show and tell the Gospel to those who are in prison, especially for chaplains attending Port Philip Prison, Loddon Prison, Hopkins Correctional Centre, and Judy Lazarus Transition Centre.
- Those who are volunteer chaplains with Anglican Criminal Justice Ministry.
- The men, women and young people who attend chapel services.
- Those who support ACJM through their prayers and financial donations.
- The work of Get Out 4 Good, ACJM's post-release support program.

WEEK 2:

Anglican Criminal Justice Ministry is a chaplaincy program that ministers to people who are incarcerated in prisons and juvenile detention centres, or have been released from prison.

Please pray for:

- Anglican chaplains in prison, as they seek to show and tell the Gospel to those who are in prison, especially for chaplains attending Melbourne Assessment Prison, Karenga Correctional Centre, Tarrengower Women's Prison, Beechworth Prison, and Langi Kal Kal Prison.
- Those who are considering God's call to be volunteer chaplains in prison with Anglican Criminal Justice Ministry.
- The men, women and young people who are speaking and thinking about their life choices with ACJM chaplains.
- Those who support ACJM through their prayers and financial donations.
- Our Get Out 4 Good Coordinator, as he recruits and trains volunteers who assist people getting out of prison.

WEEK 3:

Anglican Criminal Justice Ministry is a chaplaincy program that ministers to people who are incarcerated in prisons and juvenile detention centres, or have been released from prison.

Please pray for:

- Anglican chaplains in prison, as they seek to show and tell the Gospel to those who are in prison, especially for chaplains attending Metropolitan Remand Centre, Marnngoneet Correctional Centre, Fulham Prison, and Malmsbury Youth Detention Centre.
- Our Prison Chaplaincy Volunteer Coordinator, as he supports our volunteer chaplains in prisons.
- The men, women and young people who are reading Bibles provided by ACJM chaplains.
- Those who support ACJM through their prayers and financial donations.
- The establishment of new Get Out 4 Good sites, to enable more support of men and women as they are released from prison.

Week 4:

Anglican Criminal Justice Ministry is a chaplaincy program that ministers to people who are incarcerated in prisons and juvenile detention centres, or have been released from prison.

Please pray for:

- Anglican chaplains in prison, as they seek to show and tell the Gospel to those who are in prison, especially for chaplains attending Middleton prison, Dame Phyllis Frost Centre, Barwon Prison, and Parkville Youth Justice Centre.
- Our Senior Chaplain, as he makes contact with people who are interested in volunteering to serve as chaplains in prisons.
- The families of the men, women and young people in detention who are in contact with ACJM chaplains.
- Those who support ACJM through their prayers and financial donations.
- The volunteers who assist men and women released from prison through Get Out 4 Good.
