1 Introduction

This is the first Modern Slavery Statement (“Statement”) submitted by Anglicare Victoria pursuant to the Commonwealth Modern Slavery Act 2018 (the “Act”).

The purpose of this Statement is to outline Anglicare Victoria’s approach to ensuring the agency has a framework and processes in place to minimise the risk of modern slavery in our business operations and supply chains.

We recognise that modern versions of slavery can occur in many forms and that everyone plays a part in the elimination of modern slavery as defined by the Act, this includes: slavery, servitude, human trafficking, forced marriage, forced labour, debt bondage, child labour, and deceptive recruiting for labour or services.

2 Identifying the reporting entity

2.1 Our history

Anglicare Victoria was formed in 1997 when the Mission to the Streets and Lanes, St John’s Homes for Boys and Girls, and the Mission of St James and St John were amalgamated through an Act of Parliament, the Anglican Agency Welfare Act 1997 (Vic). In 2014 St Luke’s Anglicare, a key provider in the Bendigo, Loddon and the Mallee regions, merged with Anglicare Victoria to form the current agency.

Today, Anglicare Victoria works to transform the futures of children and young people and young adults, parents, families and carers. We offer a comprehensive network of high quality services that aim to improve lives. As one of Victoria’s leading child and family welfare organisations, we are single-minded in our mission to create positive change for the most vulnerable and disadvantaged members of our community.

3 Structure, Operations and Supply Chains

3.1 Organisational Structure

Anglicare Victoria is incorporated through the Anglican Agency Welfare Act 1997 (Vic). This Act of Parliament gives Anglicare Victoria the power to enter into contracts in its own right. Anglicare Victoria is also a registered charity regulated by the Australian Charities and Not-for-Profits Commission.

The role of the Anglicare Victoria Board is to drive the strategic direction of the organisation. Working with the CEO, the Board enables the organisation to obtain the resources, funds and personnel necessary to implement Anglicare Victoria's strategic objectives. The Board also reviews reports and monitors the performance of the organisation. Our Board members volunteer their time and expertise.

Anglicare Victoria is supported by a dedicated team of more than 1,750 staff working out of 89 locations across Victoria. Our employees are engaged either by contract or under an award and/or industrial agreement.

3.2 Operational Structure

Anglicare Victoria's head office is located in Collingwood, Victoria, with regional offices in Melbourne's North, East, South and West metropolitan areas, as well as in Gippsland and North Central Victoria.

In addition to approximately 1,750 staff, we have a further 2,300 volunteers including foster carers, and community members connected with Anglican Parishes and Dioceses across Victoria.

Anglicare Victoria is committed to a transformational agenda that aims to improve outcomes by committing to continuous improvement and rigorously monitoring our own outcomes and performance.

We are always seeking new and innovative ways to deliver better care, guided by our clients' feedback and ideas.

Out-of-Home Care is a vital service and at the heart of what we do at Anglicare Victoria. In any given year our agency provides residential, foster and kinship care to more than a thousand of Victoria's most vulnerable children and young people.

At the same time, we help in excess of 10,000 families a year to stay safe and together through a range of family preservation programs. We empower families to build better futures through supporting parents to build their skills, while also offering financial counselling, alcohol and drug services and mental health support. We are also a major provider of men's behaviour change and other programs addressing family violence.

3.3 Supply Chains

At Anglicare Victoria we look for suppliers that demonstrate a commitment to implementing policies and practices consistent with our own.

We purchase products and services from a broad range of suppliers across various sectors, including:

- Property development
- Facilities management – security, maintenance, landscaping
- Food services
- IT equipment and software
- Vehicles
- Professional services
- Legal and consultancy
- Insurance
- Marketing and advertising
- Furniture and fittings
- Utilities

We are working towards ensuring that suppliers tendering for Anglicare Victoria's work (as well as our current suppliers who are applicable and appropriate) certify their compliance with Anglicare Victoria's Preferred Supplier Agreement. This will include, where applicable, completing a Due Diligence questionnaire as part of the pre-qualification process.

When applying to become a Preferred Supplier with Anglicare Victoria, we ask suppliers to recognise that corporate and social responsibility reside as much in our supply chain as they do in our own activities. As part of this ongoing commitment to ethical work practices, standing by our belief in social justice and acting as an advocate for the underprivileged, we continually seek to ensure that products and services we source are ethically produced. We do this by working with our suppliers to positively influence our social, ethical and environmental performance.

Anglicare Victoria's Preferred Supplier Agreement outlines our supplier expectations in relation to:

- Labour standards

- Environmental standards
- Conflicts of interest

3.4 Investment Portfolio

Anglicare Victoria's Investment Portfolio, which is managed on our behalf by external investment managers, follows ethical guidelines relating to investment opportunities.

Anglicare Victoria is opposed to financially supporting (through investments) industries and companies that could cause significant harm to the children, young people and families that Anglicare Victoria supports through its services. We do not intend to directly or indirectly invest in companies with any significant involvement in the gambling, alcohol, armaments, vice, payday lending or tobacco industries. We recognise that these high-risk industries may also have links to modern slavery concerns.

4 The risks of Modern Slavery in operations and supply chains

4.1 Operations

Anglicare Victoria recognises that as an employer of approximately 1,750 people, it may cause, contribute, or be directly linked to modern slavery risks. However, we believe this risk in our workforce to be low, mostly in part to strict regulations and legislation in the family services sector, and employment laws that we are required to comply with.

Our internal framework includes:

- People & Culture Policies and Procedures that support operational recruitment and ongoing employment practices.
- Mandatory employment screening practices and verification of right to work in Australia for all employees.
- All employees, temporary staff, labour hire staff and partnership workers are required to have a valid Working with Children Check before commencing work, and at all times while working with Anglicare Victoria. As well as undergo regular Criminal History Checks.
- Industrial regulations (awards, agreements, employment contracts) that govern employment relationships.

Anglicare Victoria has not yet identified any specific instances of modern slavery harm in our operations, but we are committed to ensuring that all our employees have access to the resources and supports necessary to report modern slavery practices should they arise.

4.2 Supply Chains

Anglicare Victoria is an Australian based organisation delivering services in a country identified as 'low' risk in The Global Slavery Index. However, we understand that we might be directly linked to a higher risk of modern slavery through our supply chains.

While we cannot control activities outside of our own organisation, including circumstances where some of our suppliers operate in countries where modern slavery risks are high, we have put in place controls for risk to ensure that any supplier we work with is aligned with our ethics and principles as much as possible.

Anglicare Victoria recognises that our supply chain is linked to high-risk industries, such as the procurement of IT equipment including computers and mobile phones. We are aware that suppliers of these products and services may also have modern slavery risks within their supply chains, especially when they are being manufactured in countries that are considered to be 'high' risk by The Global Slavery Index. Examination of our supply chain will be guided by the Australian Government's Department of Home Affairs Guidance for Reporting Entities ("Guidance Report) to determine risks against three categories, being risks that may possibly cause, contribute and/or be directly linked to modern slavery practices in the sector, industry, product and service types, and geographic locations.

Over the next Financial Year, we intend to focus on these potential risk categories and prioritise supplier engagement activities.

5 Actions taken to assess and address the risks

Anglicare Victoria is committed to the highest standards of client care and service to the community. One of the key strategies in attaining and maintaining these standards is ensuring the probity and suitability of all individuals who will work with or on behalf of our organisation. We're pleased to report that Anglicare Victoria already has existing policies, practices and supplier agreements in place to proactively address and reduce the risks of modern slavery in our operations and supply chains.

5.1 Anglicare Victoria's internal Modern Slavery Working Group

A cross-functional working group will be responsible for identifying and implementing process improvements, and identifying compliance policies that need to reflect modern slavery obligations. The working group will be overseen by the Director of Quality & Outcomes and includes the following: Director of Finance & Business Services, General Manager of Infrastructure, Director of People and Culture, Director of Strategic Communications, Financial Controller, Head of Technology and General Manager of Quality & Review.

5.2 Reporting concerns

The Anglicare Victoria website offers the opportunity for staff, volunteers and members of the public to raise concerns regarding modern slavery at Anglicare Victoria. The website includes an enquiry form; a feedback/complaint form that can be completed anonymously, as well as details for a whistleblower hotline. These concerns will be managed in accordance with the respective feedback and whistleblower policies.

5.3 Internal audit

Anglicare Victoria has engaged external auditors, with expertise in this topic, to conduct a review of current structures, systems, processes, reporting procedures and assess the agency's ability to meet the requirements of the Modern Slavery Act.

The audit will identify any current risk control gaps and areas of improvement, as well as provide recommendations on how Anglicare Victoria can strengthen compliance obligations under the Modern Slavery Act.

Through Anglicare Victoria's internal Modern Slavery working group, outcomes, recommendations and actions taken as a result of the compliance audit will be outlined in future annual updates of the agency's Modern Slavery Statement.

Anglicare Victoria is committed to establishing a strong governance framework to manage modern slavery operations and supply chain risks, now and into the future.
